

If there is a God why are the people dying, of hunger and thirst, murder and terror
If there is a God why are we still having to fight for, freedom and peace instead of prison and war

Let us live peacefully together, let us live in equality

If there is a God why are there so many victims of violence, disasters, diseases and crimes
If there is a God why didn't he divide us into good ones and bad ones and save our lives

Reach out your hand, help one another
Open your heart, look after the weak ones
Send out your love, embracing each other
If God doesn't help, we have to do it ourselves

If there is a God, why are there so many people out for money and power, for status and vanity
If there is a God, why is there so much poverty, contempt and jealousy, misery and pain

Let us live peaceful together, let us live in harmony
Let us live no matter where we come from, let us live with tolerance and trust

If there is a God, why is there mistreatment and torture, mutilation and punishment, abuse and rape
If there is a God, why can't we live together without fighting each other, without quarrel and hate

Reach out your hand, help one another
Open your heart, look after the weak ones
Send out your love, embracing each other
If God doesn't help, we have to do it ourselves
