Something down the line that makes me feel just fine it's always on my mind and not so hard to find you see that little package I handle with care and love to share it isn't what you see but be sure it is what you hear refr.

I love to play my music, something that's really mine no-one will take it', no-one will change it

I love to play my music, something that's really mine
no-one will take it, don't change it at all

With these emotions and the fire is burning high me, I'm standing, but this melody really flies and much to complex for this tired old man maybe I can't change it but my music really can

refr.

I love to play my music, something that's really mine
no-one will take it, no-one will change it

I love to play my music, something that's really mine
no-one will take it, don't change it at all.

SOLO:

I'm not gonna freak out, I'm not gonna make a scene

I'm not kicking the backdoor, and I don't play it mean and maybe I'm not the most handsome man this planet has ever seen but be my guest and hide your joy when you hear the mandolin

refr.

I love to play my music, something that's really mine

no-one will take, no-one will change it

I love to play my music, something that's really mine

no-one will take it, no-one will change it

I love to play my music, something that's really mine
