

Stranger in my life

Stranger, why do you come here and sit across from me ?
With your dark eyes, so sorrowful and yet so full of hope
You say that your sorry, for the mistakes that you made
But what mistakes, and why do you tell me ?

You remind me of a man that I had known so well
His words were so meaningful, generous and kind
His touch was of love, so warm and gentle
And I trusted him devoutly, with no trace of doubt

Stranger ,in my life

Stranger ,in my life

Then one day I saw him with another in my place
My thoughts grew confused with anger and jealousy
I wondered what I had done to lose all his love
And I searched for endless hours, to find I'd no answer

So stranger, why do you come here and tell me your regrets ?
Because what was once, cannot be again
Life has no place for sorrow or self-pity
It goes on regardless of pleasure or pain
